

1

ABSTRACT

2 A method and apparatus for locating objects by means of machine vision alignment using
3 cooperative targets. Novel cooperative targets are used that have substantial performance
4 advantages. Alignment methods having non-translation alignment capabilities are used, such as 5 geometric pattern matching, cooperating with suitable targets to perform alignment in non-
6 translation degrees of freedom, such as orientation and size.

7

8

9

PAGES 1-40 OF 40